CoolCatTeacher and the Digiteen Dream Team

Welcome to the Tenacious Teacher's Teaching Strategies for the Everyday Teacher. This season we continue our quest to become tenacious. Today we are interviewing Vicki Davis and her tenacious students who are part of the Digiteen Dream Team. These students have been using virtual worlds to teach other students about digital citizenship. The students worked in two groups using two different virtual worlds to teach separate groups of students. We'll hear from the co-organizers of each group.

Thank you so much for the interview -- the kids had a great time and I posted this on their blog, tweeted it and it will be on mine as well. It was a great experience and the more they can talk about things the better. Thank you for helping give them a voice!
