

Parents®

magazine

September 2008

Social Sites for Little Kids

Club Penguin, Webkinz, and Neopets started a craze: junior social networks. We picked the best of the next generation.

KIDZUI

This new site for kids ages 3 to 13 combines Web browsing, parental-control features, and a virtual community. The content changes as your kids grow.

ZOOKAZOO

A New virtual world for kids ages 6 to 12 that has amazing graphics, animation, and sound mixing—not to mention good cyber-bullying protection.

FRANKTOWN ROCKS!

in this Web world, 6- to 12-year-old music buffs can jam, play instrument-based games, and watch instructional videos.

HANDIPOINTS

If kids from ages 4 to 14 complete their chores in the real world, they can earn points to use toward playing games in this virtual world.

WOOGI WORLD

As your elementary-school-age child plays games that teach him about being a good world and Internet citizen, he earns privileges such as chatting.